

Department of Zoology Mentor Mentee Programme

Mentor Mentee Programme is a good initiative from Department of Zoology, Dr Kanailal Bhattacharyya College to provide an overall guidance to students for their success in life. Mentoring students leads to emotional and academic support, guidance, encouragement and overall a successful career. A mentor plays an important role to nurture students and has an impact on students' performance and academic career. Mentees are also dependent on mentor for their overall problems including personal and academic affairs. In summary, this system helps the students to clarify all their problems and strengthen their capabilities for a successful future. With this association an interpersonal relationship grows between the faculties and students of the department.

Mentor Mentee system is an assigned program from the college to each faculty. Each mentor receives a list of mentee who are first year students along with their email id and phone numbers. After that, all mentee are communicated from the mentors and give their communication details for any purpose. Routinely, the mentors meet with his or her mentees to have a discussion on academic, co curricular activities. The mentees are also informed about various programs or any scheme that have been organized by the department or college. They are always encouraged to perform in extracurricular activities. The mentors also keep record of their mentees' performance and discuss with them for better results at the end of each semester. In the final semester, the mentors are counseled them for their career opportunities and ultimately guide them for a successful life.
